MINOR LOCAL EVENTS.

The Smaller Happenings of a Day in and About the City.

The Eastern branch is free from ice.

The Buffalo Daily Times is now for sale at all of the hotels in this city.

Mr. John E. Smith, of Wheeling, W. Va., formerly of this city, was yesterday admitted to the bar of this district.

A colored man named John Mockabee died suddenly yesterday at his home No. 415 Bates alley. The coroner was notified.

Only five arrests were made Wednesday by the police of the eighth precinct, and yesterday a vagrant was the only prisoner taken up.

The Register has received the will of the late Geo. A. Bassett in which his bequest to all his property to his daughter Fanny C. Bassett.

Detective Block yesterday arrested two pickpockets named P. H. McDonald and Frank Starr for the larceny of a pocketbook from Mrs. Mary White.

About 6:30 a. m. yesterday box 121 was struck for a fire in the kitchen of R. F. True, formerly of this city, at 1117 1/2 street, east of the opening of a gas stove. Damage, $200. Fully insured.

During the inauguration celebration the detectives of this city arrested 31 well-known professional crooks; they are all locked up for trial at the Police court, and to-day they will be photographed.

Benson & McNeel's dredge No. 2 which was constructed at the navy yard left there yesterday, was acquired in the criminal court yesterday, of the charge of breaking in the dwelling house of James Blackwell on the 25th of December last.

The bust in bronze of President Cleveland in the window of J. & C. Jewellers, is an excellent piece of workmanship and has been much admired. It is the handiwork of Mr. S. J. Elliott, a Washington artist.

The funeral of Mr. Henry Belcher, the young man who died suddenly of heart disease a few days ago took place from his residence, No. 315 Seventh street, southeast, yesterday, and was largely attended.

The stock and running force of some of the restaurants and confectioneries located in the city, are all locked up for trial at the Police court, and to-day they will be photographed.

The organization of the March term of the criminal court was completed yesterday by the selection of C. H. Willberger as foreman of the grand jury and appointment of Messrs. Geo. W. Cox and James Turner to fill vacancies on the petty jury, and were executed until Monday next.

Mrs. Emma J. Parker, wife of Mr. Edward Parker, a well known cooper of South Washington, residing at 407 F street, died yesterday morning at 4 o'clock after a lingering illness. The deceased was a prominent business woman and the daughter of the late John H. Parker of this city.

Never interrupt any conversation with a heeling cough. It creates a bad impression. Better invest a quarter of a dollar in a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and cure it.

"High," "Low," and the President.

EDITOR NATIONAL REPUBLICAN.—Through the weather map we are enabled, as never before, to understand the movements of high and low barometrical, and all the changes of the weather which their movements produce. On the map, for short, these factors are known simply as "high" and "low."

From the November election to the inauguration the movements of these factors have been most favorable to the cause of the Union. The powers of these factors are said to have made Mr. Cleveland president, but although there were many potent influences working for him it has been conceded that the stormy day of Nov. 4, 1884, had much to do with it. It was the great state of New York in his favor, whereby his election was made sure.

In recent days the regular movements of "high" and "low," which produce the heavy rain throughout New York state Nov. 4, and the other movement of March 4, 1885, which gave us such a magnificent day for the inauguration, would have been regarded as a favor of the gods, and "high" and "low" would have been deified.

At this season of the year very few "lows" in that quarter pass and give no sign. Instead of being like the "low" of Nov. 4, 1884, its precipitate work was held in check, and so far as Washington was concerned it made a sign, at least, an unfavorable sign, at that people not familiar with the weather maps knew not of its near presence.

As the wind is from "low" to the "low" the "low" on a high or north line, was the cause of the mildness of temperature on this memorable occasion.

Certainly "high" and "low" were propitious to the cause of the Union, and the pleasure and profit of those of his fellow citizens who came to see and participate in his honor and the inauguration of the "low" continue to favor him; may his administration give us the happy medium, such as we, meteorologically, have with a south "high" and a north "low."

L. P. N. March 5, 1885.

STRAINS in the city which are affected with corns or bunions can get instant relief by calling on Prof. L. J. Georges, 128 F street northwest. Those who have ear and deaf friends at home that have a pet corn or bunion can not please them better than by taking a supply of Prof. Georges' ointment with which he will permanently cure corns or bunions. Try it.

H. K. Weaver, chief collecting division general position, Washington, says Red Star Cough Cure is an excellent and safe remedy.

Death of Mrs. C. Venable.

Mrs. Catherine Venable, widow of the late George W. Venable, died yesterday morning of pneumonia. Mrs. Venable had reached the ripe age of 77 years, and for sixty-five years had been a constant near of Walter Chapel. She was greatly beloved for her many womanly qualities and pure Christian character. She was the mother of Mrs. Wm. C. Smith, and the grandmother of Mrs. John O. Venable. Her funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of Mrs. Smith, No. 101 Twenty-third street.

An Address in Gaelic.

Capt. Thomas D. Norris, of the Corcoran Irish regiment, delivered a congratulatory address to President Cleveland at the white house on Wednesday in the Gaelic language. The address was so good that Capt. Norris delivered at the barbers given in honor of Mr. Cleveland before the election. The address was enthusiastically appreciated, and President Cleveland accepted it with thanks.
